The North Carolina Network of Grantmakers' annual Foundation Fair aims to give nonprofits in all areas of the state access to the funding community. Akin to a "college fair," the Foundation Fair is intended to help nonprofits find foundations that have missions and values similar to those of their own organizations.

When attending the Foundation Fair, nonprofit organizations will have a limited time to interact with funders. Come prepared by researching what foundations are the best fit based on issue areas and organizational needs. Bring a business card and a one-page informational sheet about your organization.
